We are excited to announce that our beloved art teacher Alison Phillips is going to be coming back next semester to teach middle and high school art classes as electives. She has been on maternity leave but will finally be returning after what has felt like forever. We at the Weekly Update highly recommend her class!

Hanging out with the cool kids

This week the high school CO class is going to the Mimbres with the YCC crews. They will be learning about archaeology and hiking in the Black Range.

Please do not forget the BIG 5: water bottle, sun hat, sturdy shoes, journal and pencil, and lunch.

High School exam schedule

High school students will meet according to their regular schedule on both Monday and Tuesday for final exams. Wednesday is a half day only for students who need to make up a test or finish other make up work. Good luck high-schoolers!

Middle school

Snow Ball!!

This December the Aldo Leopold Middle School Student Council will be hosting a winter dance on Friday the 15th (right before Winter Break). More information is yet to be decided but we will make sure to inform everyone ASAP.

JK! We are officially broken up...

This Wednesday, half of the middle school will be going to the Volunteer Center and the other half will be walking around town. The group going to the Volunteer Center will be the group that went downtown last time: they will be working in the garden, making food in the kitchen, and helping the food pantry. The other group, which went to the Volunteer Center last time, will be learning about problems and solutions in The Big Ditch, going to Syzygy tile, the Orchard behind the old Office of Sustainability, and Gough Park. Please remind your children to bring their BIG 5: sturdy walking shoes, a hat, two water bottles, a healthy lunch, and their journal and a couple pencils. The weather will be cold in the morning and warm in the afternoon so please remind them to bring clothes suited to the weather.
